

Columbia Summer Program:
GLOBAL
NEUROSCIENCE

Columbia Summer Program: Global Neuroscience introduces one of the leading topics in the sciences – understanding the connection between the mind and the brain and how it impacts thoughts, perceptions, and behavior.

Students are expected to have basic knowledge of the nervous system

Dive into the basics of neuropsychology, consciousness, and its application in real-world situations while exploring cutting-edge research. The Summer 2025 program will take place in Paris, France.
