

COLUMBIA SUMMER IN

VENICE

Columbia Summer in Venice

Immerse yourself in the culture, history and language of La Serenissima on a six-week summer program in Venice. Experience its rich contemporary and historical culture, while also making rapid progress towards your academic goals.

Eligibility

- Must be a currently enrolled undergraduate, graduate, or post-graduate student in good academic and disciplinary standing
- Minimum 3.0 cumulative GPA
- Minimum 3.0 average language GPA for courses taught in Italian
- Students must meet prerequisites for individual courses

Housing

You will live in furnished, shared apartments located throughout the main island of Venice.

Activities

Guided field trips and events are designed to introduce you to the local culture.

Academics

You have the opportunity to choose your courses according to personal aspirations and interests. Previous subjects offered include Italian language, culture, film and art history.

Program Overview

Learn about the art, literature, culture, and society of Venice and the Veneto region while also having the option to study and practice Italian. This program is not geared toward any particular major, and students with no Italian language or art history background are eligible to apply. Course combinations will provide opportunities to deepen your appreciation of visual arts, history, film, and literature.